Race Nights.

What happens at your event?

Our race night kicks off with a fun introduction from our lively host. Racecards are handed out and teams will pool their fun money to place bets on the horses they think will win.

Pre-recorded races are displayed from a big screen (via projector or TV). There'll be a series of races, usually six to eight, each showcasing a selection of horses. The atmosphere will be lively with participants cheering on their picks while enjoying food and drinks. While it resembles traditional betting, it focuses on entertainment and creating a fun community vibe.

At the end of the night, the team at top spot will be announced and awarded a bottle of Champagne between them.
